SPLENDID EXHIBITION.

"Tony the Convict" Finely Interpreted by Amateurs.

A Brilliant Audience Witnesses the Performance.

Lewistown has justly been called "the biggest little city" on earth and it certainly deserves that title.

When it goes in for a thing, whether used as a conveyance by Judge Van C

and his family, had turned over

The infant child of the Judge was killed

by the accident and his wife was rendered unconscious. The physician declared that the woman would be rendered ins ane when she regained consciousness were she to find her child dead. With the consent of the dying mother, her child, the daughter of "Tony, the Con

convict," was substituted for the infant

daughter of Judge Van C

The adopted daughter was named

Lena. She grew to graceful womanhood, unconscious of her history. When she was about sixteen years of age she fell in love with Phillips Warburton, a sec ondary man of the finest type. He reciproc ated her affection. James Barclay, a hard hearted, cynical young man also loved her and he used the secret knowledge of the fact that her father was a convict to gain power over her and almost com pelled her to marry him. But in the end truth prevailed, "Tony, the convict," es tablished his innocence, gained weal th, and appeared upon the scene in time to frustrate James Barclay's vindictive schemes and land the latter in the pen itentiary.

The following is the cast of characters:

Tony Warren, a many sided character, who has an honest heart beneath his rugged countenance. Wm. R. Miller.

Wendy, his fiancée, R. H. Prentiss.

James Barclay, hard-hearted and vindictive.

San T. McGill.

Gregory Blandford, R. H. Prentiss.

Paul Warburton, a social leader. Wm. R. Miller.

Jackie McGil, R. H. Prentiss.

Wardens Burrows, of Sing Sing prison.

Tom R. Pell.

William R. Miller.

It is a street fair, a teacher's association

or an amateur theatrical entertainment

it goes in to win.

The people down there have no such idea as failure in their lexicon.

Last Thursday night, which was Thanksgiving night, by the way, the people of that pretty little city were treated to an entertainment that would be creditable to the Meffert Stock Com pany, the theatrical organization that

Louisville fairly rave over.

The show was given in Old Fellows' hall, which has a fine, large stage and a splendid seating arrangement. The hall would be a credit to any large city and its entire seating capacity was tested to the utmost. A conservative estimate of the number of people present is 500 and it is certain that a landowner, better

dressed or more intelligent audience could not be gathered in the state of Kentucky.

The beautiful toilettes of the ladies and the well-groomed appearance of the men present, together with the atmos phere of refinement and culture made up an environment that was elevating

in its influence.

Your average Lewistown gathering is peculiar to itself. The people are all to the fullest extent.

The drama to be rendered was "Tony the convict." It was realistic to a de gree. It recited the story of a man's life who had generously sacrificed him self that an erring brother should not suffer. He was innocent of any guilt yet he allowed the charge of forgery to rest upon him and was convicted. His wife, suffering under the signs of her husband's disgrace, left her home, tak ing her infant child with her. They rest ed one night in a lonely cottage and the burden of grief brought on her mother to death's door. While she was lying on the bed waiting the dissolution, a physician announced that a carriage was waiting for her.

She arose and went to the carriage and found it was the carriage of her husband. She was told that he had died. She was told that he had

His blunders, his jokes and witticisms

were all so timely that they fitted to a T.

He is a natural humorist and comedian.

"Lena," by Miss Pearl Blandford, was perfect. She was an ideal heroine, and had a fine conception of the artistic pos sibilities of her part. She was sweet, sympathetic, and very dramatic. She won the hearts of the audience from the start.

"Mrs. Van Cramer," by Miss Grace

Hicks, was very pretty rendition. She was the refined, cultured, devoted mot her that one would look for. The elem ent of sadness that had entered her life, as an invalid, was apparent, and Miss Hicks it was to warmly congratu lated upon her success.

"Miss Sedley," by Madge Blandford,

could not be improved upon. The won der of it was so graceful and pretty

that a young lady could make herself up and act so as to make herself the disgre ace old maid that was demanded by the text. Her rendition of the character was rich, and it made every one truly happy

when "Miss Sedley" was reported among the stars.

"Sally," by Eunice Blandford, "was a grand thing. Miss Eunice Blandford is an ideal comedienne. Her spirit is just bub bling over with gaiety, and her laugh was contagious. She is natural and unaffected, and her free, unforced personality

made her a star of the first magnitude.

She has a beautiful voice, and the due rendered by her and Mr. Blandford was scored over and over again.

Gregory Blandford, of "Singing Bur rows," of Sing Sing prison, was good, and would have shown splendid talent in a more important part.

The concert then formed part of the program was highly enjoyed, and by its artistic work the Lewistown club has es tablished itself as a first-class musical organization, and one that would be creditable to Owensboro.

IN SPITE OF COLD.

The Merchants Enjoyed a Fine Trade

Saturday.

The cold, windy weather of Saturday prevented a large crowd from coming town, and it also interfered with the proposed balloon ascension to the extent that the latter event was postponed.

The ascension sail, going up in a hot-air balloon and leaving 1,000 feet above the clouds with the assistance of a parachute, under the best of conditions was dangerous, but with such a wind as was blowing Saturday it was a hundred times more so, and meant certain death

to him should he attempt it.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

Are Royally Entertained by Irvington People.

A Most Profitable Joint-County Institute Held.

The teachers of Breckenridge and Meade counties in joint association met at Irvington, Nov. 26, 1898. Notwith standing the cold and disagreeable day,

a large crowd of teachers, patrons and friends of education gathered early at the school building which shows the in terest manifested in the cause of educa tion.

The house was called to order by Supt.

Drickell.

Supt. Ashcraft was elected president, and F. E. Hardesty, secretary.

The Association was opened with prayer by Rev. Crocker.

The welcome address was given by Mr. E. C. Crabbe and a warmer welcom could not have been given by one less interested in education. In his long and well prepared address he shows his in terest in the better education and es pecially in our public schools of which he is a warm friend.

Supt. Ashcraft responded to the ad dress with a short and appropriate speech in which he gave a glowing account of the progress of the school system of the county.

Miss Mary Lewis held the audience

in spell while giving a beautiful and well rendered vocal solo.

An interesting paper was read by J.

C. Tucker on "The Relation of the Pupil to Citizenship."

"How to supplement reading," was ably discussed by W. A. Stith.

A long well prepared and interesting paper was read by Mr. Ed Goodnight on

"Thoughts by the way."

Teachers—You will miss the opportunity of your lives if you do not accept yourselves of the superior advantages offered you at Irvington, Ky., by Prof. Crabbe. You cannot afford to fool your time away with inferior schools, though they may be well advertised, you do not know, and nine cases out of ten they do not have and do not do what they advertise to do. Prof. Crabbe and his work is too well known to need any remarks from us. He is a professional teacher, having taught twenty-five years, a classical graduate and his teachers are all up-to-date and thoroughly competent. This school is here at home and the teachers of this and adjoining counties, will show to the people that they are not progressive and do not desire to better qualify themselves. If you do not avail yourselves of these opportunities.

Dinner Party
The family of Lieutenant Colonel David R. Murray enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner at the Fisher homestead last Wednesday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Beard, Miss Evelyn, Missie and Allene Murray and Miss Bonnie Hamilton. On Thursday Col. Murray, accompanied by his son Hal, went to Ansonia, Ala., where he resumed his command in the Fourth Regiment.

RASAR LEBLIE, Teacher.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by J. F. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for each case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Some Beautiful Blossoms Raised by Mrs. J. T. Patterson.

One of the most successful Chrysanthemum growers in this section of the state is Mrs. J. T. Patterson, of this city. She has, this season, produced some of the finest variety that would take prize at any flower show. She understands how to produce the most beautiful effects and is meeting with flattering results.

Mrs. Patterson is one of the most successful and enthusiastic floriculturists in this section and her love for flowers amounts to a passion. She is to be complimented for her ability.

Tax Collections.
Deputy Sheriff, Frank Payne, has collected about $2,000 taxes in this city during the past few days. The sheriff calls attention to the tax list that appears in this week's paper. He has been very lenient and delinquents have about $7,000 in the 1898, '99, and books that have not been collected. They now ask all who are in arrears in taxes to pay up and save legal trouble.

EASY GOING PEOPLE
These who disregard the indications of disease.
The progress of catarrh is frequently gradual. Chronic catarrh secures possession without the knowledge of its victim. It has become so common to say, "Every body has a little catarrh," that many easy going people pay little attention to it. Yet no class of disease is so difficult to shake off. Advanced in years find themselves in the tolls of catarrh. Mr. and Mrs. Collins, of Giddings, Tex., found help in Peru-na. Mr. Collins's letter follows:

Peru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O.
Dear Sirs:—"I think your Peru-na is the best medicine I ever used for catarrh. I have tried all the catarrh medicines that I could hear of and none of them did me any good until I tried yours. I and my wife have both used your Peru-na and Man-alin, and we are about well. I am 70 years old and my wife is 66. the cat continuance, their failure to respond on occasions when we succeed, and though their very presence puts a damper on our otherwise rising spirits, let's be glad and rejoice."

Mrs. Shelley, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. McCane, returned to her home in Parkland Friday.

Dr. J. M. Walker was taken with a chill Friday on his way to see a patient. He is still very sick.

Dr. Moorman, of Irvington, was called to see Dr. J. M. Walker, Sunday. We are quite sure that he will improve.

Every day brings us nearer Christmas. Get your presents ready and have on hand a large quantity of "good cheer."

Our friend Tim can let the Irvington correspondent where the property comes in. The enormous sweet potato crop, for which there was no sale, had to be fed to hogs, which saved the corn (that was an extra crop) so much that both hog and corn market was glutted and that's what is the matter. But how about the cattle and sheep, and live turkeys at 24 cents, butter and eggs too.

It is reported that a company of volunteers, officers and men together, refused to embark for Cuba on transport "Number Thirteen," which by chance happened to be berthed at dock Number Thirteen. Supposition has greater power to terrify men than have burning gunpowder and blazing cannon.—Epworth Era.

FARM AND STOCK.

Corn is selling at $1.25 in Glasgow, delivered.

December wheat is selling 60¢ and May at 65¢ at Chicago.

A. M. Roberts, of Lewisport, shipped 9 bushels of hops to Louisville last week and got $150 for the lot.

Two hundred and ninety-five head of cattle, average weight 1,500 pounds were sold at Richmond for export. The price paid was $20.00.

The Standard Journal notes the sale of 10 cattle wt. 1,040-lbs. at $3.00; 100 barrels of corn at $1.25, delivered; 50 export cattle, wt. 1,600-lbs., at 45¢; 89 export cattle, wt. 1,400 at $2.55.

Ned & McVine shipped one day last week to New York 9,000 dozen eggs and about 1,500 chickens and ducks. The entire consignment was worth in the neighborhood of $3,000—Richmond Register.

Hog cholera has been playing havoc in the northern part of the county and most of the farmers have lost at least half of their herds. Mr. Richard Hays has lost one hundred head—Elizabeth-town News.

There is much complaint from farmers about corn rotting. Where it was cut up to make room for wheat, nearly all of it is spoiled. And where it has blown down, the grains have sprouted. The merchantable corn crop will be much less than was expected in this section.

Mr. L. T. Barnard, living near Hartford raised 58 bushels of potatoes this year from one bushel and a peck of seed planted in the first week of May. He sold for his potatoes, says the Hartford Republican. This was a good investment and a big yield from the small amount of seed planted.

Mr. Joseph Ferio, tobacco commissioner of the Italian Government, has arrived in New York, and it is given out he will make an early visit to the Dark Markets to arrange for that Government's supply of tobacco for the coming year. Mr. Ferio's visits are looked on as an event in the lower markets where he generally goes to discuss the tobaccoists' hearts with liberal orders.

The market showed slight changes for the better this week in prices for common tobacco, grading from trash to medium fillers of the new crop. We could see no perceptible change otherwise from last week, though the demand was steady and equally as good on all grades, quality and condition considered. The tobacco being offered continues to be mean and little of it is desirable for good plug stock.

John Embray, one of the most extensive cattle buyers in the State, was in Danville to-day in quest of exporters. He said that he bought about 400 fat steers yesterday in Montgomery and Clark at from $4.40 to $4.65, and also paid $1 for an extra good bunch of 40, which he bought from Bill Simpson, of Jessamine. Mr. Embray said that the bulk of the best cattle in Kentucky have been moved. Bourbon county this year fed over 10,000, Clark 5,000, Montgomery 5,000, while Boyle and Madison followed while between 3,000 and 3,500 each. One of the largest individual feeders in the State is James E. Clay, of Farris & Whitley and Jerry C. Caldwell, of Boyle, are among the largest and best feeders in the State.

CLARION NOTES.

What That New Haycock Paper Has To Say.

Capt. Jas. Henson is a crack wing shot. He has frequently shot nickels away that had been tossed, with rifle. Last week he killed a wild goose flying with a rifle, at a distance of several hundred yards.

Chas. Lambert, who lives near Floral, says he has raised the biggest pumpkin this year of his life. It is a very general report, but in his patch weighing 70 pounds.

Mr. S. J. Baker, of Pateville, made a delivery of 600 pounds of tobacco to Owensboro yesterday for which he received $1.00 for both leaf and bolls. This is only about half of his crop.

W. J. Deane, the Breckenridge county man, is in the city receiving two car loads of lumber from Lawson brothers, which is to be shipped to Louisville.

A JOKE ON THE TEAMSTER.

He Roughly Ordered General Sherman to Break His Neck.

A good story is told of one of General Sherman's Missouri teamsters. He had just joined the service, a raw recruit, and was assigned the task of driving a six mule team. When the army halted for the first night, he was wearily un-harnessing his team.

"Hello there," said the wag of the company in passing. "What do you mean by taking care of those mules yourself? Why don't you have the hostler do it?"

"Why, I thought every man had to take care of his own team," said the bewildered teamster.

"You bet he doesn't. We've got a hostler for that. There's his tent right over there. He's a lazy, contrary old coot, and he may not want to do it, but you swear at him and he'll move off at double quick."

The Missourian strode over to the tent indicated, which happened to be General Sherman's headquarters.

"Here, you son of a gun," he roared fiercely, "get out of here and brush those mules."

Needless to say, the teamster spent the evening in the guardhouse.

A pious old Indiana farmer was assigned to the duty of teaming, probably by mistake. The roads were muddy, and the rest of the teamsters were literally bombarding their charges with curses.

It was against the old man's principles to swear, and he held his peace, albeit in impatient rage. At last one of the kind mules balked and refused to advance a step. The old man used every endeavor to urge the beast forward, but to no purpose. At last he roared in a loud and solemn voice:

"Oh, Lord, you know where this mule ought to be as well as anybody. This whole army knows where he ought to be this minute. He knows where he ought to be. I know where he ought to be, oh, Lord, and if he doesn't move in a minute I intend to say so, by gum."

GLADSTONE AS A CHEMIST.

An Incident in the Grand Old Man's Career in the Commons.

If Mr. Gladstone seldom indulged in sarcasm, it was not because he lacked the gift—for he possessed it in a high degree—but because he forbore to use it. To hurt an opponent's feelings gave him pain and when he did it unintentionally he was distressed.

One of his most persistent, but never ill-natured, critics was the late Sir John Pape Hennessy, who told me the following story to illustrate this generous trait in Mr. Gladstone's character.

Sir John prided himself on his knowledge of chemistry, and in one of the debates on the continent of France he made a speech exposing, as he believed, a serious chemical blunder in the treaty.

Mr. Gladstone followed, and in the most amusing manner, said Hennessy in relating the story, "proving, as if he had been a chemist by profession, that it was I who had blundered egregiously."

Having thus disposed of his critic, Mr. Gladstone went and sat by him for a moment. "I hope you don't feel hurt, Mr. Hennessy," he said. "Your speech was ingenious, and it may console you to know that the emperor of the French made precisely the same objection to you have made. The fact is, both you and he know a good deal about chemistry, but not enough to keep you from going astray."

Early Whist.

Mrs. Hervey writes on Oct. 25, 1897, to her husband, that his "four sisters have been hear this afternoon, and as they never come unattended, brought with them Mr. Caw, Mr. Downey and Mr. Bo— Part of them staid and played at whist (etc) till midnight."

Twenty years later (March 18, 1717) Lord Hervey, as his title was then, writes to the Rev. John Fox, the tutor of Mad Tom Hervey, at Oxford, about that son's gambling propensities.

Lord Hervey, as his title was then, writes to the Rev. John Fox, the tutor of Mad Tom Hervey, at Oxford, about that son's gambling propensities.

Lady Bristol was at Bath in April, 1716, and was then in the center of the world of whist. "Poor Bishop Nevell," she writes, "can scarce be reckoned among the living, being in his opinionary than dead. They say he sits at Lindsey's with one to hold his cards and another to give him snuff. Paley and gout have brought him to this miserable condition."

On May 1 she cheerfully informs her husband that the divertisement of the evening is the puppet show. "Betty is gone with Lady Forington. The whistlers have promised me some diversion after 'tis over."

Notes and Queries.

The Canning Fox.

The sagacity of the fox is most wonderful. It is related that he is tormented by fleas, and when the affliction becomes unbearable he gathers a mouthful of moss and slowly walks backward into the nearest stream until the mouth is left above the surface of the water. The flea meantime takes refuge on the moss, and when the fox is satisfied that they have all embarked he opens his mouth, and the moss drifts away, while the wily for regains the bank, happy in freedom from his tormentors.—Exchange.

How to Make Bavarian Cream.

For rice Bavarian cream, scald three cups of milk in a double boiler, add a generous quarter of a tablespoonful of salt and one-fourth of a cup of rice, well washed. Cook until the rice is tender, but unbroken. Soak one-fourth of a box of gelatin in a little cold water and then melt by setting the dish over hot water. Strain the gelatin into the rice, using a piece of cheesecloth for the purpose. Add half a cup of sugar and cook in the saucepan heat one cup of thick cream until stiff. Flavor the rice with vanilla and fold into the rice the cream. Turn the mixture into a mold, chilled, and serve when thoroughly chilled, with orange or lemon jelly or with preserved fruit.

BRANDENBURG.

Miss Mamie Sheen will remain for a short visit.

The house was jammed and reserved seats were in demand.

The young ladies were all prettily dressed at the reception.

We all enjoy and appreciate a friend of distinction, pronounced opinion.

Twenty millions for the Philippines will do. We'll not grumble at it.

Mrs. G. H. Carpenter was handsomely attired, diamond pins and earrings.

Our Nominates are standing in "Fame's shadow" since last Thursday.

Most every family had informal Thanksgiving dinners and family reunions.

Miss Rosemond Moorman, of Cloverport, is visiting Mrs. George Dowd's family.

Miss Lala Bland and Henry Cowley had a pleasant trip to Woodland last week.

G. H. Carpenter was "best man" at the reception and was useful as well as ornamental.

Dr. Burch came up Thanksgiving and his family returned with him to spend a few days.

Miss Geo. Frymire spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. J. T. Woolfolk.

Henry Nevitt, Will Smith, Fritz Sheen and Mr. Sheen have returned to Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis entertained Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong to dinner Thanksgiving.

Judge C. C. Fairchild and wife are in Jeffersonville to see her daughter, Mrs. John Bailey.

Nimrod was out in profusion on Thanksgiving. Jeff Dittio enjoyed quail for several meals.

For now we will talk of holiday foods and busy, deft fingers will begin to make presents for loved ones.

Tennie Hamilton made a famous debut girl when it came to "Tirgiana." Ten is an up-to-date live girl.

Ora and Crozier McIntire can sing well. They have natural talent and they are respectful, nice boys.

Let us attribute much in this world to ignorance. God says such will be judged accordingly which suffices.

The president's message will be the longest in years. I am so glad there is no law compelling one to read it.

Misses Lala Woolfolk, Minnie Bland and Mabel Harlin were graceful as sylphs in "Faith, Hope and Charity."

Fercy young came down from Louisville and ate Thanksgiving dinner with his mother at Mrs. Blanche Fontaine's.

Miss Mabel Shacklett was the guest of Miss Minnie Bland on Thanksgiving and to take a part in the musical program.

The posing in the "Death of Virginia" by the young ladies was worthy to be classed with "Pygmalion and Galatea."

Many human natures are treacherous and are therefore envious of another's success. Most of us have felt the scourge.

Come to Brandenburg Normal if you wish superior advantages. "Nothing succeeds like success." Give us a trial.

A girl or boy with a gentle, respectful, obliging manner wins all to him or her. See the other kind and note the difference.

Dr. J. M. Hardin will be at Irvington as usual this week on Wednesday and Thursday. Don't fail to let him examine your teeth.

Miss Jimmie Lee Woolfolk was in town last week the guest of friends and to take part in the Thanksgiving exercises. She is a handsome girl.

Dr. Hardin's dental parlors will soon be ready for him. He will have the very latest improvements pertaining to dentistry. I will tell you about it.

Dr. Eaton, of Louisville, will deliver a lecture at the Baptist church on the 10th of December 10th. He is well known throughout the State as an eloquent orator.

Mrs. J. Allen Armstrong wore a beautiful pink silk dress and a small child wore it to the reception. Her neck and shoulders are as exquisite as a Cleopatra.

Brother G. B. Overton preached last Sunday night at the Methodist church. He always delivers a song, comforting sermon and one that makes us take up life anew.

Fannie Phillips, George Helmstedter and Ethel King were pretty as pictures in "Kiss in the Dark." Wm. Boling and Frank Swan were "dandies" in the same play.

My class and I vote. Miss Agnes Maud a big vote of thanks for her sweet smile, kindness in assisting us at the musical. She was heartily enjoyed and Miss Minnie Bland played.

Miss Mary Lewis sang at the Teacher's Association which was held at Irvington last Saturday. She has a true clear voice and a good repertoire as we know her musical number was a winning one.

Dr. J. D. Burch, of Painesville, has sold his property to Dr. W. B. Burch, of Hardinsburg. Dr. J. D. Burch has not decided where he will locate. His wife and children are here for school advantages.

My pupils Lena Nevitt, Mabel Harlin and Minnie Bland played their accompaniments with much expression and composure. To begin with pupils early have talent for performing is the idea. Confidence.

Our Thanksgiving entertainment was a pronounced success. The house was packed. There was not the slightest mistake and most persons think it is the best program the Normal has ever carried out. The proceeds, thirty dollars, will go to the library. The night was an ideal one which inspired many to attend from a distance. The program was a little long, but it was unavoidable on account of so many pupils. The audience evinced very little restlessness, the order was excellent.

Brother Phillip Jenkins has accepted a call to Louisville, and will therefore resign his post here. Oh I am so sorry, I do to the Brother Jenkins, and I enjoy hearing him preach. The Rev. Mr. Shults has been called to this church. He is an excellent man. He married Miss Mattie Willett, of Buck Grove, and has been identified with the people. He preached for us last Sunday on secret prayer, a good, practical sermon. Brother Shults has accepted the call yet.

Miss Daisy McIntire has a large class in music and each did well in quarts and choruses. Crozier McIntire, about twelve, has a wonderfully fine, true voice. Ora sing well, too, they are all musical. I regretted that Daisy and Agnes could not play but the program was so long we hadn't time. I finished, and my son returned cheerfully for the sake of making a success and then all the Normal teachers have been exceedingly courteous to me. I did as I would be done by.

In the paving of streets by asphalt a problem of health and comfort is solved. An ancient Roman taught that good roads and streets were indispensable. The fathers of our metropolis have finally realized the lesson taught so long ago by the mistress of the world, noiseless, asphalt thoroughfares. When cyclones struck New York it caused transformation and if the wheel is only a fat it is a chronic one and is contagious as well. Louisville has contracted the disease and only to cause any one to do any "guessing" though we have no con scientific scruples against a state of affairs that might produce such a result.

Miss Mary Rebecca Owings and Mr. J. R. Smith, of Wolf Creek, will be married tomorrow, Thursday, at the Louisville Hotel. Rev. C. V. Smith officiating. Ceremony will occur at 3:30 p. m. Attendants, Miss Sue Owens, sister of the bride-elect, and her uncle, C. T. Owings. The couple will return that night to their home, near Wolf Creek. I was over to my friend, Mrs. Blanche Fontaine's, who has the trousseau, and mainly so she needs asphalt roads for the city, near Wolf Creek. Discovered By a Woman. Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Dissane" fattened his clothes upon her and for seven years she withheld his severest test, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of a bottle of Dr. Kings New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lath. Thus writes W. C. H. Haddock & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Short & Haynes' Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

A GUNSHOT WOUND. Capt. J. R. Schreyer, the well-known Ste. Louis, Mo. baseball player, was shot in the leg by a stray shot while he was out for a walk Sunday.

It Matters Not How Obstinate, or What Other Remedies Have Failed.

Obstinate sores and ulcers, which refuse to heal under ordinary treatment, soon become chronic and deep-seated, and lead to consumption, most serious. They are caused in different ways, but in every case the blood is involved, and no amount of local treatment can have any effect. The poison must be eliminated from the blood before a cure can be had.

THROWN FROM A HORSE. Mr. H. Kuhn, of Marion, Kansas, writes: "About three years ago I was thrown from a horse and sustained a severe wound of the scalp. Though under medical treatment the wound remained about the same, until I was advised to try S. S. S. I at once put it into a running stream, and to the surprise of all, the wound healed in a few days. I am now as well as ever, and I can only say that S. S. S. is the only blood remedy guaranteed."
